GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

Ottawa 11th July 1891.

SIR,

His Excellency the Governor General has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the communication from the Honorable the Minister of the Interior, dated the 10th of the present month, in relation to the proposed extension of the Indian Act to the North West Territory, and in reply to inform you that the same has been forwarded to the Privy Council for their consideration.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,

Yours obediently,

J. J. COOTE.

By forty-four Victoria, chapter seven being "An Act to amend the Indian Act and sections two and three, it is provided that

CHIT-CHAT LOCALS.

Gathered by our Reporters.

A Christmas Card for a Child.

To catch old Christmas in the morning air

A child stole out and wandered on the heath;

And there sat Christmas, bowing floppy head.

Crossed-legged upon a stile, and cried,

"Look here,

This smile for you-a good, wide smile,

my dear,

Of bright red gums and rare plum-pudding teeth,

And jolly old wrinkles round my holly wreath;

Ho, ho, for Christmas and a glad New

Year!"

That child was I, and every year in snow,

Or mist, or rain, to catch some health I go,

And there sits Christmas on the self same stile;

And of the dear sweet days we talk a while;

Laughing and crying at the things we know,

But parting ever with a hug and smile.

The second musical and literary entertainment under the auspices of this Club was held in the club rooms on Tuesday evening, Dec. 11th, and was very large attended and even a greater success than the first. In the absence of the President from illness, and the Vice-President, the Secretary presided. The following programme was then proceeded with: 1. Instrumental trio, piano, violin and cornet, Messrs. Peterson, Way and St. Louis; 2. Reading "The Barber Stone," very effectively rendered by W. R. Gunn; 3. Song, "Welcome

Pretty Primrose," very nicely sung by Miss Brown, who was loudly cheered;

4. Recitation, "Mark Antony's Oration

from Julius Caesar," well given by J. J.

Campbell; 5. Song, "Oh, would I were with you," sweetly sung by Miss Mac-Kenzie; 6. Recitation, (original) "On the Dignity of Labor," well rendered by Mr. D. J. Waggoner; 7. Song, "Every

Bullet has its Bill," well sung by Mr. J. L. Johnson, as to demand an answer, which produced "The Flighty

Wife," Recited by Mr. Macleisk, "The Kerry Dance," by Mr. Macleisk, which was loudly cheered; 10. Recitation, "The Charged the Light Brigade,"

very finely given by T. N. Campbell;

11. Duet, "The Minute Gun at Sea," harmoniously given by Mr. Brown and Mr. Johnson, which received an enthusiastic encore, which was responded to by singing "Flow on thou Shining River";

12. Reading, from Wordsworth, very effectively rendered by Mr. J. O. Davis;

13. Song, "O'Shaughnessy's Twins," by Mr. T. H. Davis, which was well received by the audience as to demand an encore to which he responded with

"The Pitcher of Beer," which was again encored and produced a very comic and laughable piece, an imitation of an Irish woman singing a song, which brought down the house; 13. Reading, by Mr.

Fitz Gorman, the encounter between

Michael O'Donnell and Billy Morarty, the "Fading Ring," 14. Instrumental Trio, piano, violin and cornet, very effectively rendered by Messrs. Peterson, Way and St. Louis, which was encored, to which Mr. St. Louis responded with the cornet solo. This wound up a very agreeable entertainment which seemed to enjoy very much. The receipts taken at the door amounted to $30.

WASN'T A LIAR.

Why the Squatter objected to the Name of a Bad Witness.

"What is your name?" asked the United States Attorney of an old squatter who had been summoned before the court as a witness.

"Which name, Squire?"

"Your right name, of course."

"I ain't got none."

"What, you don't mean to say that you haven't got a name?"

"Oh, no, sir."

"This squatter says that your name is Amamus Peters. Is that so?"

"Reckin' it is."

"Thought you didn't have a right name?"

"I ain't."

"Look here, sir. Don't you trifle with this court. Your presence here will be tolerated I know. Why did you say that Amamus Peters was not your right name?"

"Cause it wasn't right to name a hog Amamus, therefore it ain't a right name. The Bible, I believe, never called Amamus a hog."

"Which," interposed the judge, "is it peculiarly applicable to your case."

"Look here, judge. I don't want to argue with you, 'less you've got the upper hand of me, but I don't want you to hit me with the bible. A name's a bad enough, its where you find the law as him, but when yer bug the law as gospel both, he ain't got no show."

"Where do you live?" asked the attorney.

"At home."

"But where's your home?"

"In the neighborhood of 'whar I live."

The judge turned away to consult a note, and the attorney giving the "squatter" a look of extreme severity, said: "Do you know where you are, sir?"

"Yes, sir, I'm here."

"You won't be here much longer unless you answer my questions."

"I can answer your questions, squire, but not your rat-baiting."

"Where were you when Mr. Jason, the defendant, cut timber from the government land?"

"When did he do the cutting?"

"That's what I want to find out. I think it was some time in October."

"Well, was it in October I was in one place and sometimes in another?"

"Did you ever see him cutting government timber?"

"I believe I did."

"When?"

"During the war when he was in the army."

"None of your foolishness now. Didn't you come along the road one day in October and talk to the defendant while he was chopping down a tree?"

"No, sir."

"Remember that you are under oath. Do you don't see him while he was chopping down a tree?"

"Didn't say that, 'squire, for I did see him chopping the tree."

"Did you stop and talk to him?"

"Yes, sir."

"Thought you said you didn't stop and talk to him?"

"Didn't say it."

"You did."

"Didn't say it."

"What did you say?"

"Said I didn't talk to him while he was chopping, for when I came up and spoke, he quit chopping. If that's any thing else you want to know, fire away."
